Central New York Regional Communication Meeting

To obtain feedback from all stakeholders of the public mental health system, we are hosting Regional Communications meetings. This is an effort to increase the feedback received to improve services, identify barriers to services, and learn of exemplary practices taking place. If need arises from these meetings, education on the public mental health system may also be a part of the meeting or set up based on feedback from these meetings. Previous attendees to these events found the collaboration of the peer/family/provider mix very valuable to strengthening the service system.

If you are a provider of services, please bring people you serve and invite their family members to attend. For some providers, bringing the people you serve to the meeting may be a component of your program. It also assists you in helping people engage in community activity.
