Integrative care, meeting both medical and behavioral health needs in one location, is increasingly becoming the norm.

Learning Objectives

By the end of this webinar you will be able to:

- Define integrative care and its effect on peers working in healthcare.
- Recognize the value of peer support specialists in health care settings and the importance of advocacy for these roles and peer support as a whole.
- Identify skills for increasing professionalism and leadership as a peer support while maintaining personal wellness.

Who is the presenter?

De Anne Nichole Dwight is a research nurse and peer specialist at the department of family and community medicine at the University of Arizona.
