From ACEs to Assets: A Community Approach to Growing Resilience

Through the experience of Monroe County, NY, this session explores how community collaborations to better understand ACEs and the power of resilience, lead to meaningful change across child-serving systems. Unique, actionable data and collaborative efforts moved the needle in the ability to respond to trauma and to grow resilience. The data offer three clear areas where positive impact is possible, creating hope in the face of adversity and a replicable roadmap for individual and system change.

Presenters:

Elizabeth Meeker, PsyD | Vice President, Consulting Services

Amy Scheel-Jones, MS Ed | Senior Consultant

Date: March 18, 2020 from 12:00 – 1:00pm

CCSI provides training and implementation support on an increasing number of topics designed to help organizations understand, implement and sustain practices aimed at improving the way care is provided. Our training team members have experience working directly in clinical or program settings, so they combine deep content knowledge in their particular areas of expertise with a solid appreciation for the challenges associated with learning and implementing new ways of delivering services in “real world” settings. In addition, in partnership with our Quality Improvement Team, CCSI can also offer practical ways for organizations to assess the impact of their training investment on care quality and outcomes.
