NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

Join us this week for our next COVID-19 Office Hour session!

The pandemic has rapidly shifted the delivery of behavioral health services to virtual platforms, but how has this transition impacted group sessions?

Moving group work from in-person to virtual raises questions around confidentiality and safety, establishing new group norms, client engagement and more.

Join us on Thursday, June 18, from 3-4 p.m. ET, as we explore best practices, evidence-based recommendations and practical tips to help foster effective group work engagement.

Authors of a recent American Psychological Association article, "How to Do Group Therapy Using Telehealth," will guide our conversation and address your questions.
